(International News Service)
BERLIN, May 25.—German troops have "encircled" the important French channel port of Calais, the Nazi high command announced today, while supplementary military information indicated that some attacking units have entered the city.

The communiqué itself covered developments of yesterday. Military quarters, reviewing the events of today, stated without reservation that the Nazi vanguard had swept into Calais, within 20 miles of British soil.

Calais is only a five-minute flight by bombing plane from the chalk-cliffs of Dover.

German Communiqué

A communiqué issued by the high command said:

"In the south between Valenciennes and Vimy, the German attack on both sides of Douai is progressing in a northwesterly direction.

"Vimy Ridge has been taken. A fierce battle against enemy land and naval forces.

"Calais has been encircled.

"The German ring around the Belgian army, parts of the first, seventh and ninth French armies and the bulk of the British expeditionary force, yesterday was strengthened considerably, and thereby has definitely been closed.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Heavy rains over the past few days have caused local streams to rise rapidly. The Shenango river has risen over three feet in the last day, employees at the City of New Castle Water company plant revealed this morning.

Commencement season has arrived for a large number of students in Lawrence county once more. At several of the county high schools baccalaureate services will be held on Sunday evening. At Ellwood City, the seniors have already been graduated, the baccalaureate having been given a week ago.

Thursday of next week is Memorial Day. Fitting arrangements have been made for local observance of the day. The program really starts in this city with the services on Sunday evening.

Baseball enthusiasts are rather nursing a grouch against the weatherman. The past few days have been very unfavorable for outdoor sports because of the downpour of rain.

Despite the lack of much hot weather so far this spring, the wheat crop seems to be coming on rapidly. Wheat is nearly two feet high on some farms in the county.

Delinquent Per Capita School Taxes Will Be Collected By Company

By a seven-two vote Friday night the New Castle School Board contracted with the Don Wilkinson Company of Port of New York, Pa., to act as special tax collectors for the board for the purpose of collecting the delinquent per capita taxes from 1931 to 1936 inclusive. The meeting was a special one called for the purpose of discussing the per capita tax situation. Other matters were also considered.

The resolution proposing the contracting with the Wilkinson Company was read and discussed before passage. Director W. Fulton Jack-

Eight civilians were injured—three requiring hospitalization—in the North Riding attack. There were no casualties in the raids upon East Anglia.

British anti-aircraft defenses went into action and English fighter planes took wing, but it was not revealed what success met their efforts. No details as to the number of German planes involved, nor as to the number of bombs dropped, were given.

PARIS, May 25.—An official French spokesman today denied a Berlin claim that German troops had entered the highly strategic channel port of Calais.

"Calais is still in our hands, as well as Boulogne," he said. "We are holding the Germans at Saint Omer as well."

The Germans claimed Boulogne and St. Omer yesterday, and declared it was in a thrust from St. Omer that Nazi troops were able to penetrate Calais.

In fact, a spirit of optimism appeared to reign in Paris military quarters. While admitting the Germans still were throwing men and machines through the breach toward the English channel between the Somme river and Arras, the spokesman declared the French were "holding" the Germans along the Somme in the south as well as at St. Omer.

Violent Fighting

"The most violent fighting" is going on in the St. Omer sector (12 words censored), he said.

"The magnificent" French resistance is not going a single inch, he added.

Between St. Omer and the Somme and the Arras-Somme breach, which is now considered more a gap than a breach, the spokesman said the

South America Pushes Drive On Fifth Column

(International News Service)
BUENOS AIRES, May 25.—The entire South American continent launched a drive against fifth column activities today, obviously deeply aroused by the trend of events in Europe during the past month.

Scores of suspects in Argentina, Chile, Uruguay, Peru, Bolivia and Brazil have been rounded up during the past few days, it was revealed today for the first time.

Meantime, stringent legislative measures against Nazi subversive activities already have been introduced in the congresses in Montevideo, Buenos Aires and Santiago, Chile.

Discovery of maps, compromising letters and large sums of money on German "hoboes" arrested in the Argentine lent violent impetus to the drive.

Just to hike the hills and enjoy the trees and gaze at the azure sky, and sit and dream near a hemlock tree as the cloud fleeces goes scudding by. # President Prepares Sunday Address

World Situation To Be Discussed

Likely To Remain Silent On Third Term Issue In Fireside Chat

SECURITY THREAT WILL BE STRESSED

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, May 25—President Roosevelt today was preparing the draft of a national emergency report he will deliver to the people tomorrow night over the radio.

All advance indications pointed to a rather grim fireside talk that would stress the ever-growing threat to American security from abroad. Despite the rising clamor of Republican leaders that he declare himself out as a third-term candidate in the interests of National unity, Mr. Roosevelt is expected to ignore that issue.

Rebuke Predicted
Well known new dealers predicted the chief executive probably would rebuke his political opponents for injecting the 1940 presidential campaign into the national defense drive.

The president's renomination at the July Democratic convention already is assured unless he unmistakably eliminates himself as a candidate. The White house has formally stated he is much too busy with matters of vital national import to be issuing any political statements at this time.

It was certain that in tomorrow night's address the president would demand a united front by capital and labor, Democrats and Republicans, in stiffening American defenses against any eventuality. He wants no profiteering and no strikes and he has let it be known he will elaborate on that theme in his fireside talk.

furious bombardment of German-held French ports across the English channel. Watchers along the Kentish coast reported dense smoke billowing three miles into the sky and drifting along the horizon for 30 miles from across the channel. For three days heavy cannonading has been heard from the direction of the French shore, and so strong have been the detonations that windows and doors were rattled and shaken in England.

Early this morning off the southeast coast a huge red glow shot skyward from a point across the channel, lighting up the sea for miles around. No explosions accompanied this phenomenon, but it must have been caused by a fire of heroic proportions somewhere along the French coast, it was stated.

Shell Nazi Tanks
Eyewitnesses arriving from the Boulogne area said British warships outside that French port have been shelling the Germans as the Nazi Panzer (mechanized) detachments

Nazis are passing "a certain number of armored columns accompanied by motorized elements used to protect their flanks." (Five words censored) Belgo-British forces north of (one word censored) are retreating "slightly." (Eleven words censored).

Last evening the German forces began recontacting the allies in Belgium, and the spokesman declared: "We'll see today how the situation there evolves."

Fighting Near Cambrai
"Extremely hard fighting" is going on north and west of Cambrai, with attacks and counter-attacks, whip-sawing back and forth. Neither side has shown any appreciable success in this sector.

German armored columns are pressing toward the coast but the situation at Boulogne at present is "indefinite," the spokesman said, reporting that there is fighting going on around Abbeville.

The enemy's main columns are being protected by weaker detachments which have reached the channel at several places. Along the Somme there were a few local engagements in which the French mopped up enemy elements (three words censored) taking "a few hundred prisoners."

In the south of Sedan and the upper Argonne sector, the "general movement is satisfactory," it was stated. The spokesman said "we retook the ground the Germans had taken yesterday morning."

"At dawn today the cannons in that region began again. Whether this is a prelude to a new attack or an end of the present one is not known."

The Germans are using several thousand men in this fighting, and their losses are reported to be extremely heavy.

There was great aerial activity, the spokesman continued, which resulted in "considerable success." He concluded:

"Our dispositions have been taken and we can only await developments."

France's strongest troops today were battling slowly north behind a blazing artillery barrage in the Arras-Cambrai-Valenciennes sector as the French war ministry reported consolidation of the allied positions on the Somme river front.

TOMSKI GIVEN LONG SENTENCE

lieutenant Thomas Boyle after a wild west chase through Hickory townships.

Back in the county jail, Tomski, it is charged, plotted with several other prisoners for a jail delivery in which one prisoner, William Rankin, escaped but was brought back. A letter from Tomski to some friends outside was intercepted, in which letter he asked the aid of his friends to rescue him as he went from the jail to the sentence court. He has been in solitary for nearly a week and will be there until he is taken down to the western penitentiary.

On two larceny cases in 1939 and one in 1937 upon which he was paroled, he was given two and one-half to five years each, these three sentences to be served concurrently.

On one larceny case listed for the June term he was given two and one-half to five years, to be served after the finish of the first sentence.

Two more larceny cases listed for June he was given two and one-half to five years on each, these two sentences to run concurrently but the two and one-half to five years to run after the expiration of the first two sentences. For the attempted jail break he was given two and one-half to five years, this sentence to be served following the expiration of the first three. The total is 10 to 20 years, one of the toughest raps handed down by Judges W. Walter Braham and Thomas W. Dickey for larceny since they have been on the bench.

"You knew what serving time meant," said Judge Braham to Tomski. "We paroled you and yet by your own signed statement you say that you began stealing automobiles shortly after you were released. You even admit to stealing your father's suit of clothes before you left home. The theft of automobiles must stop. We have a duty to protect the public and we intend to perform our duty." Then came the deluge.

Others Sentenced
The three colored boys, William Rankin, David Russell Jones and Willie English, who were up for sentence a week ago but who were held over until more investigation could be made, were sentenced today. You have a duty to protect the public and we intend to perform our duty." Then came the deluge.

David Russell Jones got two to four years in the penitentiary for larceny and one to two years in the penitentiary for attempted jail break. Willie English who was said to have been implicated in the jail break but decided to be a good boy and stay out of it, drew six months in the county jail for larceny.

For driving while intoxicated, Walter Downing got a fine of $100 and costs and 30 days in the county jail.

For failure to stop and render assistance, Jack Belcufine was fined six and one-third cents, half the costs and six months in the county jail. For drunken driving he was fined $100 and costs and 30 days in jail, the two sentences to run concurrently.

For permitting a drunk man to drive his automobile, Dino Farine was fined half the costs and ordered to pay the damages to a car which was hit in a collision on the Wampum road.

GERMANS CLAIM TROOPS ENCIRCLE PORT OF CALAIS

Ghent and Courtrai were taken and the Lys river crossed during the attack.

"Between Roubaix and Valenciennes, Germans are attacking French border fortifications. The hills between Vimy, Lillers, St. Omer and Gravelines are in German hands. The number of prisoners is increasing steadily and cannot be estimated yet, nor can the booty."

Attack Concentrations
"Our air force combat and chaser squadrons successfully attacked troop concentrations, marching columns and anti-aircraft positions and bombed docks, piers, oil tanks and batteries at Belgian and French channel ports."

"We succeeded in destroying or badly damaging one destroyer, and seven merchantmen or transports aggregating 20,000 tons."

"As already reported, a German anti-aircraft battery sank another destroyer."

"On the southern front, weak local enemy attacks were repulsed. South of Sedan, Germans in a stubborn battle took an important hill position and successfully defended it against strong counter-attacks. Colonel Ordan, commander of an infantry regiment and First Lieutenant Langenscheidt of an engineer battalion distinguished themselves with conspicuous bravery during the recent fighting around Maubeuge."

"On the southern front our air force effectively bombed railways, airports, marching columns and tank concentrations."

In Narvik Area
"In the Narvik area, our air force continued to attack naval objectives and successfully intervened in ground fighting. As already reported, we hit two cruisers so badly that they are most likely lost and one damaged, one transport and one cruiser or destroyer."

"During yesterday's repulsion of an air attack on a battleship already damaged on May 23, the enemy ship received three additional hits, rendering it unmaneuverable and undefendable."

"One aircraft carrier was bombed and set afire and its loss is most likely. One additional cruiser was damaged, one transport and one merchantman sunk, two additional merchantmen damaged and one big tanker sent ashore listing after receiving one hit."

"We succeeded in landing units of mountain chasseur by parachute to reinforce our Narvik troops."

"Yesterday's enemy air losses totaled 84 planes, of which 27 were downed in battle, 14 by anti-aircraft fire and the remainder on the ground. Seven German planes are missing."

Tell Distributors Milk Drive Plans

Milk distributors of New Castle and the county last night were told the aims of the proposed milk campaign of the Greater New Castle Association and cooperating granges.

At a meeting in the GNCA office in The Castleton, the distributors were informed of plans worked out so far. They were notified that the GNCA's publicity-promotion committee will have a definite campaign draft ready within a short time.

Leaders hope the proposed educational drive will stimulate the local consumption of Lawrence county-produced milk.

ALIEN LAWS TO BE TIGHTENED

They sought, meanwhile, to whip the various bills into a coordinated program for prompt consideration.

Senate development included a favorable report by the immigration committee on a house approved bill which would deport all aliens advocating or working toward the overthrow of the government. Measures curtailing immigration quotas, and calling for registration of aliens also are likely to be considered.

Resolutions by Sen. Reynolds (D-N. C.) creating a special senate committee to investigate "fifth" column activities in conjunction with the national defense program, and calling upon all government departments to furnish the senate with the number of aliens employed, their salaries, and nature of their duties may be adopted.

collected. They felt it was better to have professional people, strangers to the city come in and collect them. Their compensation is to be only the interest and penalties which have accumulated since the taxes first became delinquent.

Griff Thomas said he had changed his mind since the last meeting and would have to vote against the idea. "Since the meeting I have talked to a number of citizens and find the idea is opposed by many," said Thomas. "I do not like the idea of these collectors coming in and being permitted to sell people's furniture to get the delinquent taxes."

The resolution was put and passed with the board all voting for it save Jackson and Thomas who voted "No."

FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT "SCHEMES"

(Seventh Edition)

PICTURE ENLARGEMENTS—Beware of salesmen who offer to enlarge and color old pictures for the cost of materials alone. This is a common racket to sell you a cheap frame at an exorbitant price.

PUFF SHEETS—"Puff Sheets" are magazines filled with complimentary articles about companies and business men. Their sole circulation is the number of copies ordered by flattered subjects. "Mug Books" are similar but contain pictures.

PULLING IN—Should a merchant try to solicit you on the sidewalk, watch out. That is often a preliminary step in bait.

RADIO—Some radios have "dummy" tubes. They light, but as they are not wired into the operating circuit, they perform no useful function.

PREMIUM—Before you sign for the purchase of regular weekly amounts of household groceries from a company offering coupons and premiums, be sure that you are satisfied with the choice and quality of the products. You may more than pay for the premium by a high price for the goods.

RADIO AUDITIONS—Those who give legitimate radio auditions do not generally ask a fee.

RADIO NOISE—Radio noise eliminators sold by street peddlars with elaborate faked demonstrations, fail to work as represented.

RESIDENCE DEALERS—Dealers in furs, furniture, jewelry, etc., posing as private parties in private residences are called "residence dealers" and operate "stuffed flats." They misrepresent and charge excessive prices.

SECOND-HAND HATS—Used or second-hand men's or women's felt hats, which are renovated for resale, are not always marked or labeled as such.

SECOND-HAND WATCHES—Old second-hand watch movements are sometimes put in up-to-date cases and sold as new by unscrupulous jewelers.

SMUGGLED GOODS—All kinds of cheap merchandise, furs, lace, rugs, linens, suiting materials, etc., are sold by peddlars as "smuggled goods." These "phonies" affect foreign accents and frequently dress as seafaring men. Misrepresentation is their stock in trade.

SPANISH PRISONER—Beware of intriguing letters from the Spanish or Mexican prisoner who offers you part of a secret fortune if you advance money to get him out of jail. This is probably the oldest international swindle known.

CHERRY BLOSSOM DANCE PLANS ARE COMPLETED

WORK FOR CONGRESS BEFORE IT QUILTS

THE new defense legislation undoubtedly comes first, but the progress it has been making in Congress removes any excuse for neglecting other important pending measures.

Congress shouldn't get the idea that the public has forgotten about Wagner Act revision, which in itself would be a contribution toward keeping our industries strong for defense.

The Hatch bill, to curb political activities of Federal-paid State and local government employees, must be passed before the election campaign to be any good. The House Judiciary Committee has made a gesture toward reviving the bill, after trying to kill it with tricky, secret tactics, but hasn't moved to bring it to the floor.

Railroad relief legislation is unfortunately dead for this session, but the Ramspeck bill, to extend the civil service, and other meritorious measures are awaiting action.

Even if members of Congress are eager to get back home in this election year, there is no reason why they should quit before they have finished their appointed tasks.

THE PLACE FOR AMERICANS IS HOME

Secretary Hull has a right to complain at the failure of the many Americans still in Europe to return home. Not only have they been duly warned, but they have been informed of the plans by our State Department for their safe transportation.

Only about 75 of our citizens have arrived in Bordeaux, a designated point of embarkation. Fewer still have gone to Ireland, where it had been arranged for an American vessel to take on passengers.

American citizens are prohibited from traveling on belligerent-owned ships. They should leave Europe while they have the opportunity to do so. Some may feel it their duty to stay to attend to important business, but Europe is no place for mere sightseers.

Our Government has done its part. The responsibility will be upon those who ignore the plain warnings and decline to take advantage of the facilities for returning while there is yet time.

THEY CAN'T COUNT ON BLOCKADE ALONE

Authoritative circles in London probably are right in their belief that it was the Allied blockade of Germany that prompted Chancellor Hitler to undertake his amazing lightning dash across the Low Countries into France.

The British point out that the blockade definitely has checked the flow of supplies, including foodstuffs, into Germany. In addition, the Danish grain crop is said to be poor and other markets still open to Germany are likely to lack normal supplies of food all this year because of the unusually severe winter that Europe experienced.

A blockade might be sufficient to force capitulation of an enemy if relative armed strength didn't come into the picture. But when the blockaded nation, armed to the teeth, undertakes to smash the blockade by sheer force and, with each new conquest, acquires stocks of needed supplies, the whole situation is radically changed.

The Allies may have followed sound tactics, calculated to win the war with a minimum of bloodshed and suffering, in establishing the blockade. But they erred in not being ready to outmatch the foe in planes and guns in the event that he might seize the initiative and crash the blockade—which is precisely what happened.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

BRAZIL WELCOMING IMMIGRANTS

Brazil has been taking the immigration lid off. Six years ago that government limited all immigrants to 79,020 a year. The actual number of newcomers remained well below that figure. Then, a year or more ago, a great need developed for new labor supplies. The government has since taken the following steps:

1. It increased immigrants without changing the quotas.
2. It removed all quota restrictions on Portuguese immigration.
3. It raised the quotas for the other American republics to 3,000 a year apiece. Formerly the highest number was 349 from Argentina.
4. It threw open the doors for settlers from Finland.
5. It granted haven to 3,000 German refugees.

These measures still leave the labor supply short. The state of Sao Paulo alone has told the federal government it could use 300,000 immigrants in agricultural and industrial work, on the coffee and cotton plantations and in the factories. There are 21 other Brazilian states with large labor needs.

All the Americas, said a biologist at the recent Scientific Congress, are experiencing more rapid population growth than any other part of the world. If, to the natural increase by births and prolongation of life, is added increase by new immigration, the disparity will become greater. Fortunately there is lots of room still. Average population for the entire Western Hemisphere is 16.5 persons a square mile. That of the Eastern Hemisphere is 57.

Science note: Unless food floats within reach of an oyster it will starve.

Somebody has surely thought to remark that Chamberlain has discarded his umbrella because his reign is over.

One boy who burns his bridges behind him as he goes is Lindbergh. Apparently he never intends to reside in England or France again.

A Princeton professor predicts that for the next 100,000,000,000 years the univers will be progressing toward mediocrity, which comes as a surprise to the average layman, whose idea was that it would hit bottom not later than June 7, 1943.

Words Of Wisdom

If you cannot be happy in one way, be in another; this facility of disposition wants but little aid from philosophy, for health and good humor are almost the whole affair. Many run about after felicity, like an absent-minded man hunting for his hat, while it is in his hand or on his head.—Sharp.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PARENTAGE BRINGS GREAT JOY

June is a marrying month for many. Is it the crowding of love lures suggested by the mating of the birds and other creatures of the wild, or by the buds and flowers turning into fruit? Perhaps it is because school and college end and vacation begins. All may explain in part why so many youths marry in the month of June, especially among the middle and professional classes.

Normally, marriage presupposes planning for children. Some married couples will, of course be unable to have children. Some will choose deliberately to be childless. Not a few will purposely postpone the rearing of children.

A Career?
Some months ago I conducted a forum with a large group of high school girls on "Marriage as a Career." The girl who asked the third question rose and calmly inquired: "How long do you think it advisable for a young married couple to postpone having the first child?" She spoke as unemotionally as if she were asking about the weather. I hope I answered her as objectively.

For a good many newly married pairs, postponement of the first baby is for economic reasons. Every couple must, of course, decide for themselves.

But a strong temptation for the young married pair who deliberately postpone the first child is that they will, upon accustoming themselves to a certain living standard or pushing this standard upward and adding ease and luxury, postpone the first baby indefinitely, not choosing to make the sacrifices which having a baby would seem to require.

Baby Or Taxi

While in a certain city during a lecture engagement, I was called for at the hotel by a young man teacher, the chairman of the group I was to address. He took me to school, later to his home, in a taxi. As we were entering his home he said: "I suppose you wonder why I have taken you around in a taxi. I have no car. My wife and I couldn't afford a car and a baby, too. We thought it over and decided on the baby." I shall never forget the beautiful scene of that young father and mother with the baby ten months old. No one could doubt their happiness, once having chosen the better part.

Greatest Happiness

Young married couples who are looking for greatest happiness and personality in the long run, will choose to economize and endure the necessary personal sacrifices, within the limits of health, to be parents. In some instances, parents of the young wife or husband who can afford it will be wise to help this young pair with some of the cost incident to the medical care of the expectant mother and the baby's birth.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)
NEW YORK—Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson gives his idea of an invulnerable U. S.:

"A strong and united America—so strong on land, on sea and in the air that no marauding nation will dare risk battle with us and so united in spirit and in good-will that no international buccaners will undermine our institutions or loot our possessions."

PITTSBURGH—James Marshall, president of the New York Board of Education, foresees a historic mission for this nation:

"It may be that these United States of ours are to play in the modern world the role that Byzantium played in the ancient; the repository, the trustee of these things which free men hold precious."

NEW YORK—Archibald Macleish, librarian of congress, believes youth has been morally undermined by cynical writers:

"Unless we regain in this democracy the conviction that there are final things for which democracy will fight—unless we recover faith in the expression of these things in words—we can leave our planes unbuilt and our battleships on paper, for we shall not need them."

DULL MAN

In the matter of dullness I wish to remark
It isn't the day which is lacking a spark.
There's plenty to hark to, there's plenty to see,
The dullness complained of is wholly in me.

I could if I would walk the garden about.

There's many a new blossom just bursting out.
But no, I sit gloomily thinking all's wrong.

While just out of doors is a tumult of song.

There are secrets to learn, there are things to admire.

For the fellow possessing both will and desire,
But I sit at the window and vacantly stare,
Insisting that nothing but dullness is there.

I sit at the window, and see not at all

The infinite splendor of great things and small.

But I know in my heart that the dullness must be
Not at all in the day but entirety in me.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:18. Sun rises tomorrow 4:34.

A Pittsburgh woman was granted a divorce because her husband took things she had saved and traded them for whisky. Some men would even trade their wives for whisky.

A Los Angeles man married his mother-in-law so he wouldn't have a mother-in-law.

Have you heard about the champion forgetter? He was up for bigamy and charged with having a former wife and three children. "Well, well," he said, "it may be true but I don't remember it."

ONLY AT TIMES

"So you are having trouble with the electric lights?" asked the company inspector as he called at the home.

"Yes."

"Are you always troubled with poor lights?" asked the inspector.

"No, we're not," said the housewife.

"Ah, I thought not," said the inspector. "It's only at certain times, then."

"Yes, it is only after dark that we notice it."

If there ever was a time for the American people to keep their heads it is right now. There has been too much yapping, especially in Washington, and it seems much of it is for political purposes.

Safety first. The driver is not always to blame. He can't help it if a somnambulist walks into his car. The street is no place to dream. There is not enough time during the rush hours of the day to relive the "good old days."

CANT QUALIFY

She was one of those doll wives who, however, are very ornamental.

"I've just been reading a very interesting article," she told her husband when he came home to dinner.

"It says here that in a short time a woman can get everything she wants done by just touching a button."

"I guess you're going to have to do without then," said hubby, cruelly. "From the looks of my shirts and trousers nothing would ever make you touch a button."

A man can get married most any time. The most important thing about him getting married is his ability to keep a wife.

Making funny faces is recommended as a beauty treatment. It may be of some value. All we know about it is that it hasn't done much for the monkey in the zoo.

The "unwritten law" says a man may protect his home. But you can't protect chickens by shooting the fellow who stole some last year.

We have noticed people who leave the garage doors open and leave the cars stand on the street all night.

Our idea of jumping to a definite conclusion is bailing out of an airplane and forgetting to open the chute.

The reason old fools are the biggest fools is because they have had more practice.

We have noticed that when some birds meet a big truck on the road on which there is a big sign "Explosives" they give it a wide berth. So do we.

Good Taste

It was her first sitting for the noted portrait painter and after concluding various arrangements the painter asked:

"And, madame, shall I paint you in evening clothes?"

"I don't believe you need go to that trouble," said the lady, graciously. "You can just wear your overalls, or that smock thing you painter people use."

A North Hill lady in passing a doctor's home noticed his two nice little girls playing in his yard. She said: "He keeps the nicest babies for himself."

Girls have a right to dress as they please, but some lack the nerve and some lack the figure, a bright girl remarked with some vigor.

Our idea of a real play ground is a swimming pool. One has to have water to swim in, however.

A Steubenville, O., man claimed in his divorce suit that his wife, not only refused to do housework, but returned to the home of her mother. But he didn't follow her there.

FINE REASONS

"And furthermore," said the young man to the beautiful girl with the commercial glint in her eye, "I can give you 10 excellent reasons why you should marry me."

"Why, Horace," she said, more cordially, "I really had no idea you had that many bank accounts."

A lot of people never tell their ages and don't want them known even after they are dead.

When police in Pittsburgh were looking for a stolen pig they found 2,385 gallons of moonshine in a cellar. They also found the pig.

There are people who will still get married in spite of the new law. They will go to some state where they are not so particular about people getting married.

"So you're going to see a play called Hamlet, eh?" asked the visitor from the big city. "Things sure must be slow out here. Why, I saw that play in New York 10 years ago."

Reports are that chess first was played in the 15th century and it death hadn't intervened for some of the players we expect a few of those original games still would be going on.

A woman declares that she is a fishing widow and she does not mean that she is "fishing" for her husband, either. Her husband is a fishing enthusiast.

"Eat your spinach, child," urged mother. "Don't you know it puts firm, white teeth in your mouth?"

"Then," demanded the child, "why don't you feed it to grandpa?"

Readers' Questions Answered
Dear Miss Markel: At what time of day should I pay a call of condolence on a friend who has just lost her mother?—Phyllis.

Answer: Any time of day. If you are an intimate friend, ask if you are admitted to see the family. Otherwise leave your card and pass on. Flowers are in excellent taste at such times if left with your card.

Dear Miss Markel: Since my parents have issued invitations for my friends to meet my fiancé, I have found him unworthy and have broken our engagement. How should the invitations be withdrawn?—Lois.

Answer: Your mother should issue short notes or engraved cards informing those invited that your engagement has been broken, but these should not state the cause of your estrangement. If you state the cause to your intimate friends do so without bitterness or condemnation.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

Lack Of Skilled Labor Handicap
Defense Program Will Be Slower
Training Will Take Several Years

BY CHARLES STEWART Central Press Columnist

With ten or a dozen millions of unemployed in the country, it sounds rather peculiar to discover that we haven't enough to do a rush job of armament manufacturing in connection with our national preparedness program.

As a matter of fact, of course, we do have the men. The trouble with them is that too small a proportion of them have the skill required for the task in hand. Those who haven't it, will need to be trained. Experts say that this will take from two to four years, at least. Meantime, armament-making can't progress nearly as rapidly as we want it to.

Some of our captains of industry blame union labor for our shortage of skilled mechanics. Their story is that the unionists have held apprenticeship at much too low a figure. It's been advantageous to the unionists themselves, from the standpoint of good wages, short hours and plenty of jobs to go around, but now we haven't the qualified workers that we need in our present emergency.

Labor Problem

There may be something in what these critics contend. However, the skilled hands were sufficiently numerous throughout the decade in which several millions of youngsters were arriving at a suitable age for employment.

If they'd been apprenticed during that period they'd have overstocked the labor market at a juncture when there wasn't the demand for armament-producers that has developed in the few weeks since Herr Hitler started his biggest blitzkrieg.

The fault-finding industrialists remark that union leadership ought to have seen what was coming but they fail to mention that they didn't foresee it, either.

Well, testify the industrial authorities before various congressional committees, skilled labor will have to work all the harder for awhile, until the newly recruited apprentices are adequately trained to help out.

Already there's talk of the necessity for modification of the Walsh-Healey law, which specifies a maximum eight-hour day in factories engaged in the filling of government contracts—for war supplies.

It's Long Task

To be sure, the workers will be paid for overtime. Even so, it will be a couple of years before we can be on a "war footing" according to General George C. Marshall army-chief-of-staff as a witness before the senate military affairs committee. And a "war footing" the general added, is what we need to be shooting for.

Labor leadership is co-operative, its spokesmen in Washington indicate. In one respect, though, it is evidently worried.

The argument's this: Suppose we do expand our war-manufacturing industries enormously, lengthen working hours by a dozen a week and add about 1,000,000 men to our armament-producers' ranks. And then suppose that the war suddenly flops.

Won't organized labor find itself completely swamped?

I wouldn't for a minute imply that American armament-making labor is pro-German.

Nevertheless it has, technically, something to gain from a Nazi victory.

WHAT'S THE SCORE?

"Nazis Hurdled Back — Germans Forge Ahead — British Cruiser Bombed — Cruiser Bombing Denied!" And the average reader, a little breathless from this whizzing barrage of paper bullets, asks, "What's the score?"

The actual score may never be known for years, but the reader's complaint—whether he recognizes it or not—is a tribute to the accuracy and reliability he has come to expect of reporting in America.

He accepts this, in a matter-of-fact way, in all accounts of domestic events.

But the reporter in strife-ridden Europe finds himself perpetually waging a one-sided battle with an all-powerful foe of "the whole truth and nothing but the truth." This is censorship.

Far from becoming duller, the censor's shears are today cutting a wider swath than ever through European news. Copenhagen, once a favored and censor-less filing point for dispatches of America, is now under the swastika.

When German troops took Oslo, a nerve center of news from Norway was gagged. Hostilities in the Balkans turning ploughshares into swords, will inevitably turn pruning hooks into censors' shears.

Surveying the confused, often contradictory reports which censorship foists upon him, the average reader is apt to agree warmly with Herblock, the noted cartoonist—this should be a great year for baseball.

Its' one game we can watch and know what the score is!

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

by The Baltimore Sun (Copyright, 1940)

Reasons For Protest

WASHINGTON, May 25.

IN the overhanging trend of press and public is to put aside partisanship and support the head of the nation in questions of national defense and foreign policy. There has been a striking manifestation of this in the present emergency. Hardly anyone has dissented from the Roosevelt request for another great appropriation.

HOWEVER, it is deeply significant that while there is almost universal approval of the Roosevelt demand for more than an additional billion for preparedness, there is a definite distrust of his ability to expend this sum wisely and without waste. There also is a conviction that while urging non-partisanship upon others he is not really nonpartisan himself.

IT is of particular interest that manifestations of these feelings are not confined to Republicans. On the contrary, Democratic and independent papers and individuals have taken the lead in voicing them. For example, two days ago a direct charge that Mr. Roosevelt is playing third-term politics was made by Gen. Hugh Johnson, who spoke of "this barefaced use of a national crisis for purposes of a partisan political attempt to perpetuate a particular President." In a blistering editorial the Scripps-Howard newspapers asserted that Mr. Roosevelt's effort to form what would have the outward appearance of a coalition government "is as clever a political maneuver as he ever initiated."

MR. Arthur Krock, in the New York Times, comments upon the refusal of the President to occupy "the common ground of essential concession to the needs of defenses." Similar views are expressed privately by Democratic Senators, willing enough to vote for the appropriation but full of misgivings about its administration. In plain words, they do not believe he has the capacity to handle this job efficiently or the will to do it without thought of politics. These are serious allegations to make at a time such as this, but that they are made—and by responsible people in no way connected with the political opposition—cannot be ignored.

THERE is nothing vague about the facts back of these charges. First, there is the fact that Mr. Roosevelt has no comprehensive plan for defense outside of getting the money; second, he does not propose to create any nonpartisan, independent agency, such as President Wilson's successful War Industry Board, with power to coordinate industry and out official red tape; third, none of the suggestions for delegating power to any board or individual whose sole consideration would be to do the job meets his approval; fourth, he does not propose to permit the relaxation of any of the New Deal reform legislation which concededly will cramp the preparedness effort and make it vastly more costly.

HIS resistance to all these suggestions Mr. Roosevelt made plain at his Tuesday press conference. They constitute the basis for some of the criticism, but not all of it. More acute

Unemployed In Steel Towns May Benefit By Defense Program

By JACK VINCENT

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 25—The prospect of turning towns hit by industrial changes into busy production centers to manufacture munitions and possibly airplanes was being studied as a national defense step today.

Government officers emphasized, however, that only tentative suggestions have been put forward. Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins stressed that fact in a formal statement, saying:

"The matter of locating new plants in industrial towns where industry has been on the decline will require study."

Nevertheless, the possibility of using idle man power in communities hard hit by vanishing industries was being considered. First definite news of this effect came after a conference between Miss Perkins and A. F. of L. and C. I. O. officials. The conference was one of a series planned, Miss Perkins said, to study "methods of efficiency in production and cooperation by workers (organized labor) in the defense program."

Conference Subjects

Broadly, the conferences will delve into:

1. How to absorb the unemployed in national defense industries.
2. Stabilization of hiring.
3. A survey of housing in industrial centers and relocation and expansion of plants.

Ralph Hetzel, C. I. O. unemployed

ment director, who attended the conference with Secretary of Labor Perkins, said that the plight of towns or cities where unemployment is high would be canvassed.

He said that it might help solve the problems of some steel towns, where many have been thrown out of work by technological advances in the steel industry.

It was recalled that President Roosevelt had suggested recently that new munition or airplane plants should be moved away from the seaboard where they might be vulnerable to air attacks.

A. F. of L. officials attending the conference were Harvey Brown, head of the International Machinists Union and Frank Penton, national organizational director.

Miss Perkins announced that she would name committees representing both camps of organized labor to cooperate with the government in the national defense drive.

But if, after two or three years fighting, during which we'll have been arming as fast as we can, suppose the totalitarians flatten out?

In that event we shan't regard the Allies as potential enemies and can terminate our military, naval, and aerial preparations forthwith, leaving our expanded armament organization out on an economical limb.

I think our industrialists, as well as our labor, leaders sense this. It would be lovely, from both their standpoints to have the blitzkrieg "blitz" as soon as possible, enabling them to decide on which side of the fence to jump. They're both anti-Nazi; no doubt about that. But for practical reasons, they mutually would like to know which is which.

Announce Staff For Girl Scout Summer Camp Near Transfer

Staff members and unit counselors for the New Castle Scout Camp, Camp Kiondashawa, located near Transfer, Pa., were announced today by the camp committee members.

Local Scouts are anxiously looking forward to a period at the camp this year, and the season is scheduled to open on August 1. Most of the staff members have served on the local staff during previous camping seasons, and are familiar with, and well-liked by the girls.

The Gypsy Unit will again be headed by Mrs. Fred Unstott, of Sharon. Mrs. Unstott has had a great deal of experience in training and camp work and is a Red Cross first aid expert.

In the Pioneer unit, Miss Ruth Moyer, of Franklin, whose other activities last season prevented her from conducting this group, will be in charge. Miss Moyer is a teacher in the Cleveland schools, and a great student of nature.

Ruth Ross of Pittsburgh, will be at the camp to look after the Middle Unit. Miss Ross has had several years experience at the Uniontown Camp. She headed the Older Girl Unit last year and was very well-liked.

For the Scouts from 10 to 11 years of age, who will be in the Little Unit, Miss Mildred Lusk will again be leader. Miss Lusk is teacher in Thaddeus Stevens school and has been a leader in camp for three years. This year she was awarded a scholarship to Camp Macy.

Mrs. George Ward, of New Castle, will serve as counselor for the Older Girl unit. Last year, Mrs. Ward was in charge of the Gypsy Unit. She has had several years experience in camping, and took a course in camping at Camp Ledgewood, Akron, O.

While applications of New Castle Scouts are coming in fast, many reservations are being received from girls in New Brighton, Franklin, Greenville and Butler. Miss MacLean requests that local girls registered for camp as soon as possible in order not to be disappointed.

AROUND CITY HALL

Approximately 750 persons are working on City-WPA projects, according to City Engineer Glenn Throop. Approximately 300 are working in two quarters, 75 are working at Big Run, approximately 300 are employed on the streets paving program and approximately 75 are working at the North Street sewer. Throop claims the city at no time, in his opinion, has had more WPA employees at work.

There are some hazardous sidewalks in the city. Property-owners received an opportunity to pay a cheap price for materials. Apparently they did not care to improve their sidewalks and the project obviously has been abandoned as a City-WPA project. The engineer said department of assistance employees, about 75, are doing trench work in the Shenango river where the State street sewer discharges. Some public assistance workers are also employed in Cascade park and at Sylvan Heights golf course. On City-WPA projects, such as paving, the property owners pays for the materials.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

PIMPLES AND STYES

Skin blemishes cause a lot of embarrassment in this world, particularly amongst children. Many a youngster has his happiness spoiled, temporarily at least, by a crop of pimples.

Pimples are objectionable chiefly because they are unsightly and itchy. However, a stye which is just a pimple occurring at the edge of the eye lid, is apt to be painful as well as disfiguring because the whole eye becomes red, swollen and inflamed.

There is another facial blemish, the troublesome cold sore, about which there seems to be a general belief that they are caused by kissing. Well, kissing may cause lots of things, but the cold sore isn't one of them. This belief is about as sound as that of the saying that pimples are just the meanness coming out of you, and the superstition that styes can be cleared up by touching them with a wedding ring or with a cat's tail. I've seen pimples on sweet-tempered persons as much as on the mean ones, and the sweet or mean, you'll have no help from a cat's tail or a wedding ring in curing your styes.

Cold sores are commonly caused by indigestion and fevers, and are also produced by local irritations such as nasal discharges accompanying colds in the head, by rubbing the skin, or by friction of a pipe. It's harmful to pick or scratch these. They should be treated and then left alone.

"Blackheads" and pimples are both due to inflammation about hair follicle. This doesn't mean that there must be a hair growing out of the follicle, for these are distributed all over the skin, including places where hairs do not develop. If the skin glands which exude oily material, become clogged, blackheads appear. If these are invaded by germs producing pus, a pimple is the result. The pimple will appear on the skin and grow larger and redder over a period of two or three days, with a yellow head appearing at the climax of its development.

When pimples follow one another in a regular outbreak, it is nearly always a sign on the part of nature that your system requires a mild laxative. Constipation and indigestion favor the occurrence of blackheads and pimples.

In a great many cases, touching a pimple when it first appears with a solution of iodine will stop it. But if you wait until the yellow head has developed, pus has gathered there. And to clear it up in a hurry, you must squeeze out this head or prick it with a sterilized needle.

If you adopt this measure with a pimple it is important that you take the precaution to see to it that everything around it is clean, for if some types of germs get into the pimple, a serious inflammation may follow. I have had a few cases of serious blood poisoning arising from the use of a dirty instrument in opening a pimple.

Many people have brought on real eye trouble by trying to treat a stye at home. If you or your child get a stye and it does not go away quickly but hangs on and on, you will be well advised to drop in and see your doctor. He can save you a lot of trouble and eye-soreness.

Fifty thousand pine and spruce seedlings have been planted by city employees and members of the NYA, under the supervision of City Forester Owen Fox, it was reported today by Joseph D. Alexander, director of the municipal park system. The seedlings were planted in Gaston Park, along The Narrows and on other city plots. Most were planted in Gaston Park. The seedlings were secured from the state at a cost of $2.50 per thousand.

Planting of the seedlings was advocated by President Judge Walter Braham, some months ago. Council coincided with his idea that within the next score years the value of the action of today would be realized.

Giants Victors In Night Game

Defeat Boston Bees In First Night Game Ever Played
At Polo Grounds

By ED KILLY
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 25.—The patched-together New York Giants, the team which the pre-season dopsters counted out of this year's pennant race, today dropped anchor in third place in the National League, two and one half games behind the tied leaders—the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds.

Sparked by the play of catcher Harry Danning, the Giants playing a second baseman at third base and experimenting with yearlings at the first and second sacks, have been making life tough for their opponents.

Manager Bill Terry predicted that if the pitching staff, headed by the aging Carl Hubbell, holds up, "we'll be in the race on Labor Day."

Playing the first night game in the 57-year history of the polo grounds, the New Yorkers found the arc-lights much to their liking. In fact, they played better offensively than they usually do in the daylight.

Three Home Runs
A five run rally in the second inning was all the Giants needed to annex their evening inaugural. Homers by Joe Moore, Billy Jurges and Al Glosop played a major role in the trouncing of the Boston Bees, 8 to 1. Harry Gumbert limited the Bees to five safeties.

Although Terry has gone on record as against night games 22,260 fans braved damp miserable weather to show they did not concur with Manager Will's dislikes.

The other games on the senior circuit's abbreviated schedule were rained out.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox topped their fifth consecutive victory when they tossed out the Detroit Tigers, 2 to 1. Johnny Rigney's three-hit pitching and Larry Rosenthal's fourth inning single with bases loaded were the Sox winning points.

Bobby Feller led the Cleveland Indians to a 3 to 2 victory over the St. Louis Browns in St. Louis's first major league night game.

Armstrong was declared the winner by a technical knockout over "rough-house" Ralph Zaneli, 145½ lbs., after 1 minute, 30 seconds of fighting in the fifth round of a scheduled fifteen round bout.

Westminster Track Squad 1940

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 25.—Here is the Westminster college track squad at the end of their first season, since track was dropped as a varsity sport in 1934.

Black, Brentwood, quarter-miler; Stewart Davis, Stewart Manor, New York; Vinton Clements, New Wilmington, mile; Malcolm Findlay, Javelin; Stuart Mooney, Pittsburgh, quarter-miler; Robert Flickinger, Youngstown, two-miler; and Sam Brallier, Johnstown, student-manager.

Miller, Connellsville freshman, broke two Tri-state records this year, in the broad-jump and the pole-vault.

Sports World Ramblings

Baseball odds and ends—Cincinnati presents a cake to each player on his birthday. . . . Johnny Mize, slugging St. Louis Cardinal first sacker, has clubbed out two or more homers in a single game 11 times.

Den Parker, Manhattan scribe, reminds the sports world that the "fifth column" of a box score represents . . .

One of the mid-west sports geniuses came up with this one: Judge Landis wanted to know how much of Joe DiMaggio was Gould? In their first 25 games, Kansas City knocked off 38 double plays. The American Association high is 183, posted by St. Paul in 1934. At the present rate, K. C. could roll up 22 twin killings. . . .

Answer to query: Emil Bildili, St. Louis Brown hurler, is of Italian and French descent. His daddy was born in Italy. . . . At last! "Dizzy" Dean isn't being misquoted. Stories are leaking out to the effect that Jerome isn't exactly surprised at his effectiveness on the mound. Being none too well off financially, Diz decided to try again. He has hope, cunning and a strong heart and a nothing ball.

Paul Derringer, of Cincy, is causing McKeech a major worry. A 25 game winner in '39, Paul can't find what he had last year. He walked only 36 men in 38 games last year. So far, he has passed out 21 free tickets. In addition, Derringer has allowed 63 hits, 23 more than any other Redleg. Without Derringer, the Reds may find the pennant road too bumpy. . . .

Jimmy Dykes, pilot of the White Sox, says the Yankee reversal of form has caused the New Yorkers to bow to such an extent that they even speak to other clubs now. . . . There supposedly is a movement underway in the National to get a law passed in the diamond books which would prohibit teams from traveling via air. . . . What do you think MacPhail's latest plan is? To increase the seating capacity of Ebbets Field.

Does he think the flag is in already? . . .

Bits of this and that. . . Off season grid note: Nile Kinnick, All American of Iowa, is still doing a little lecturing at banquets. . . . for the first time in the history of the "500", a native American is entered in the Memorial Day race. . . . "Big Chief" Chitwood, a full-blooded Cherokee from Kansas, will pilot a car entered by a Californian.

Ken Overlin, the Washington boxing master who tucked away the middleweight bauble from Ceferino Garcia, beat $400 against $1,000 that he would win, according to Eddie Brietz. . . .

Scholastic Track Stars Compete At State College, Pa.

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 25.—Scholastic track and field stars throughout Pennsylvania competed here today for individual and team honors in the annual PIAA track meet.

Fifteen events were scheduled for entrants the preliminaries of which were begun in the morning, with the finals scheduled for the afternoon.

With top notch performances chalked up in the district meets records are expected to tumble in the dashes, broad jump, and field events.

Events were conducted in two classes, both A and B schools with an enrollment of less than 400 students are entered in "B" competition while all other entries compete in Class A.

Given a good chance of breaking the scholastic record for the 100-yard dash in Parnell Troy high school negro, who won the district four trials in his specialty in 9.8 seconds.

Traffic Officers To 'Crack Down'

Too Many Violations Of Regulations Are Holding Up Traffic Downtown

In an effort to better traffic conditions, Traffic Commissioner Thomas Jones has arranged a new method of traffic operation at East Washington street and Croton avenue.

Until today the east-bound vertical light came on and the left arrow followed in 15 seconds for a left turn.

Today traffic flows east through East Washington street and left into Croton avenue at the same time because the vertical arrow and the left arrow now operate simultaneously.

According to Jones the East Washington street lights have been so arranged that six cars can move between Croton avenue and the Public Square at a rate of 17 miles an hour without striking a red light.

Last Saturday night traffic was considerably congested at East Washington street and East street from East street an opportunity to enter East Washington street.

They followed preceding cars so close they had to stop on the East Washington, East and Water street cross-over which caused the interruption.

This is a violation of traffic rules. No doubt the situation will be watched Saturday evening and night.

A glaring instance of traffic violation was seen in North Mercer street yesterday afternoon. A chauffeur drove his car into that street and double parked while he entered a building. Cars were forced to wait until on-coming cars could clear before they could proceed because of the double parking.

Final track meet for members of the Mahoning Junior High school squad will be held Monday afternoon, May 27. The Mahoning boys will take part in a triangle meet with George Washington and Ben Franklin Junior High schools.

Most of the boys on the Mahoning squad this season, have been new to a track squad, but despite this fact, the team has made a fair showing.

Two previous track meets have been held, one of May 6 and one of May 20. The meet on Monday will bring an end to the track season for this year, according to Austin Cowmeadow, coach.

NEWS BRIEFS IN WARD DISTRICT

Red Cross workers have been making a solicitation in the Seventh Ward for the war relief fund. In most of the contacts the workers have been receiving favorable returns.

Rev. J. E. Myers, Jr., new pastor for the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, is now quite well established in the community. He has made house calls to nearly all members of his church already.

Postal Superintendent, Edwin McBride, stated today that patrons living on rural routes should not leave money for money orders in their boxes. The post office department is not responsible for any loss incurred.

Many residents of the district are spending most of these fine afternoons fixing their lawns and flower beds.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

More folks than we thought "were" or we should say "are" interested in the streets of New Castle ... several have written in suggestions for improving North Mercer street hill ... One just came in from Ellwood, and the person who wrote it had some very sound ideas ... we thank you for your support.

Decorative Day programs will be presented in a great many churches tomorrow. We folks here in the United States should take a few moments each day and think about the past ... of the times that we have put boys and men into the fields of battle ... of how many of these "cream of the crop" men have been killed or destroyed for their entire lifetime. Let's not make a hasty decision ... George Washington had some very sound ideas ... and if you would like to brush up on them, read his farewell address.

The traffic department is having quite a time controlling traffic in the downtown sections on Saturdays ... too many people are double-parking. Tickets should be given and fines laid ... with no exceptions. We are handicapped with narrow streets, and the only way we can overcome traffic tie-ups is by each of us playing fair ... don't think too hard of the traffic officer if he tells you to keep moving ... he is trying to help your town.

Went down to see Charlie DeCarbo of "DeCarbo Express Co." ... had no idea just what to find ... but to our amazement we found an industry that is really an industry. Fifty-two men and women are employed, and the service they render is something to write home about. But what we really went to see was a new gigantic wrecker that Charlie dreamed about and then built himself ... of course, he didn't do the work all himself, but it was done right in his own shop. The wrecker is the largest one in western Pennsylvania ... it can lift 10 tons without half trying ... a DeLo light unit is included, and when the lights of the unit itself are lighted ... you think Christmas is around the corner. It will be ready for public inspection within a short time, and it will really be worth your while to look it over. We have some mighty clever business people in New Castle ... and Charlie DeCarbo is one of them.

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 25—The stock market rallied late today after a quiet and mixed first hour, to close out another week of sharp declines on a firm note.

Steels paced the recovery, which brought gains running to more than 2 points in a few instances. Volume picked up on the rally to carry the two-hour total above a half-million shares. This was in sharp contrast with last Saturday, however, when turnover of 1,660,000 shares was the largest for a two-hour session since Sept. 2, 1939.

B. & O. President Sends Message

Local B. & O. Chairman Of Cathedral Event Gets Letter From Willard

PLANS COMPLETE FOR MAY 28 EVENT

Although it will be impossible for him to be present for the "B. & O. Day" festivities here on Tuesday, May 28, President Daniel Willard of the road is interested and in a letter which follows, he expresses his appreciation for the manner in which it is being handled here.

Tuesday's celebration will be the second B. & O. Day held here and is expected to top the one of a year ago. A dinner-dance will be held in the Cathedral with many of the higher executives of the road being present. Vice President C. W. Gallaway was expected to be present but will be unable to come.

Trip To Fair

Some Lawrence county boy or girl will get a trip to the World's Fair in New York at the expense of the C. T. P. group of the road through the medium of an essay. An essay on "What the B. & O. Means To Lawrence County" has been completed in by a number of students of the high schools of the county. The winner will go to the fair with all expenses paid.

The letter of Mr. Willard's to the local chairman, R. A. Garrigus, follows:

Mr. R. A. Garrigus, General Chairman, Baltimore & Ohio Day, New Castle, Penna.

Dear Mr. Garrigus:

I am very glad that New Castle has decided to respond to the suggestion of its B. & O. citizens for another Baltimore & Ohio Day. It speaks well for the first occasion of this type, which was held on May 23, last year, and I wish to extend through you to the Mayor of the city, the Hon. Charles B. Mayne, to the other city and county officers, the civic and business organizations and individuals who are cooperating, and to the members of the B. & O.

New Castle family, my very real appreciation for the honor they do our railroad.

I note that the subject, "What the Baltimore & Ohio Means To Lawrence County", has been selected for a prize essay contest open to all residents of the county, except members of B. & O. families, between the ages of 15 and 21, and I hope that this will help bring about a clearer understanding between the community and the railroad.

I feel, however, that if I had been asked to select the subject for the contest, I would have preferred—"What the Baltimore & Ohio Ought to Mean To Lawrence County". I say this because even if the railroad does seem to be playing its part as a good citizen, we may be sure that it never fully attains the ideal of that relationship, and that it constantly faces new obligations and opportunities which it should endeavor to meet.

The Cooperative Traffic Program has been of special value in that respect, since it serves so well to keep the representatives of the railroad in touch with the community. I do not know any point on the B. & O. where this is being better illustrated than at New Castle, and I hope that your second "Baltimore & Ohio Day" will exemplify this in every way.

Very sincerely yours,
DANIEL WILLARD.

State Motor Police Are Bearing Down On Applicants Here

Returns from the examinations for motor vehicle operator's license here last Tuesday show that one who is not qualified can expect to win a license to drive in Pennsylvania.

More than one half of the applicants were given a failure slip and must take another test. Providing they have not failed three times they can do this, otherwise they must wait for several months before then can take a test. Examinations will be held again Tuesday in Sampson street between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m.

Many of the applicants know how to drive but believe they can "wiggle through" the questions concerning the state's motor laws. This has resulted in the failure of many persons because State motor police opine that a person who is not inclined to study the laws and therefore does not know them is as much a menace on the road as the incompetent driver.

Some autoists also take cars to be used in the test without first having inspected the lights. Any car on which all the lights are not working is not used in an examination. Instead the car must be taken to a garage and the defective light be replaced. The patrolmen also watch for "bad rubber," and other mechanical defects. All cars must have mirrors and windshield wipers.

Urge Four Day Celebration Of Fourth Of July

(International News Service) STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 25.—The Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association today approved a resolution urging a four-day celebration to mark the Fourth of July "to encourage greater popular appreciation of the four fundamental American freedoms."

The resolution, adopted at the annual press conference here, suggested that the event be celebrated during the first four days of July. The four-day program would exemplify freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom of assembly and freedom of the press, climaxed by a community wide mass meeting on July 4 at which American ideals are re-emphasized.

The resolution cited need for extended observance because "democracy is underfire throughout the world," and "subversive propaganda and un-American activities threaten to undermine our people, particularly our youth."

"The newspaper, because of its public service, responsibility, its unequalled ability to reach the people, and its dedication to the principles of freedom, is the best medium for democracy," the resolution said.

Blame Accident On Dead Driver

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 25.—A grade crossing collision between a passenger train and a motor truck on the Gulf Coast lines of the Missouri Pacific railroad at Llano, Tex., on March 14, was caused by the truck being driven immediately in the path of the train, the Bureau of Safety reported to the Interstate Commerce Commission today.

The collision resulted in the death of 29 persons and the injury of 15 others.

The Bureau said the crossing was protected by a standard "crossing" buck sign. "There was nothing to obstruct the driver's view of the train approaching from the east and visual conditions were good. Why the driver failed to observe the approaching train is not known as he was killed in the accident."
